Summary

Hi there! As a Registered Nurse with a passion for technology, I am currently making an exciting transition into the world of web development. While I love providing compassionate care to patients in the Emergency Department at Stormont Vail Hospital, I am also actively working towards obtaining my Full Stack Developer Certification through the University of Kansas. This exciting new challenge allows me to combine my problem-solving skills with my love of technology, and I can't wait to see where this path takes me. My goal is to leverage my diverse background and skills to create innovative, user-friendly digital solutions that make a meaningful impact in people's lives.
